HCA's' Day: Who cares wins

The 2nd HCA's' day at RCN Congress 2010 has been designed specifically for health care assistants and assistant practitioners. Our programme includes topics relevant to you, and is reflective of the issues and developments in health care within the UK today.

Come along to hear from our inspirational speakers who will show you how to be more confident at work. Our round table workshops will cover a range of clinical and practical subjects that are relevant to you, your role and your workplace. Topics include clinical skills such as developing an obesity clinic and issues related to dignity. You will also be able to hear 'real life' stories about the changing roles of the HCA and AP.

You will have the opportunity to ask questions on areas that affect you such as accountability, education and the new Independent Safeguarding Authority legislation.

The day will be as interactive as possible with lots of opportunities for you to network with colleagues, ask questions, and learn about best practice. The programme will also allow you to visit the rest of RCN Congress and Exhibition 2010, so you can experience all that it has to offer.

Places are very limited, so please book early to guarantee your attendance at HCA's' Day 2010!

Our website will be constantly updated, so keep coming back to ensure you are up to date with what is happening.
