Outcomes/Outputs:
Provide a brief description of the project and reasons for development:	A collaboration with fertility nurses, male factor fertility specialists and urological nurses to produce guidance for nurses and healthcare staff working in areas where they may see patients affected by male factor fertility. 50% of all fertility issues are male factor. Male factor fertility is often misdiagnosed or treated with invasive fertility treatments that may not be required. Many nurses have little or no knowledge of male factor fertility issues, diagnostics and treatment and they are often the first port of call for patients when they have questions about their conditions. Lifestyle, surgery and other factors can cause male fertility problems and further guidance is needed for nurses working in areas where males may present. The publication will equip nurses with the expert knowledge and skills to be able to provide holistic care for those affected by male factor fertility.
