What challenges do you encounter when advising travellers?

This is a unique opportunity to learn how to address these challenges more effectively. There's so much on the programme, from the older traveller to malaria, non-vaccine preventable diseases to travelling with children. And with a unique opportunity to bring your own cases and ask a panel of experts in a wide range of fields, you'll leave feeling confident and ready for the challenge.

Attend this conference to:

- Be aware of current guidance on travel-related vaccine and non-vaccine preventable diseases, and the challenges of applying them to practice
- Recognise the changing patterns of travel-related disease epidemiology, and the importance of using up-to-date resources.
- Demonstrate competence when managing complex travellers and itineraries and understand when and where to seek expert advice.
- Be ahead of the curve with what's on the horizon in the field of travel health.

Programme highlights

- Vector-borne diseases
- Immunisation
- Sexual health
- Rabies
- Immunosuppression
- Travelling when pregnant
