

The voice of nursing in the UK

Clinical research nursing

The inaugural RCN clinical research nursing conference takes place on 24 February 2021. Book your place before 31 August to receive the early bird offer.

Register

Research training

Liverpool John Moores University is offering two PhD scholarships to registered nurses or midwives who wish to study part-time whilst continuing in their clinical roles. Apply by 18 September.

Find out more

A research portfolio

NHS England has launched a collection of research studies that demonstrate the impact and contribution that nursing, midwifery and care staff can make to transforming health and care.

Access the resources

Research implementation

The National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) Applied Research Collaboration (ARC) East of England has produced an animation to highlight the approaches they take to put applied research findings into practice.

Watch the video

Make it public

The Health Research Authority (HRA) has launched a new strategy to ensure information about all health and social care research is made publicly available to benefit patients, researchers and policy makers.

Discover more

Take part in #RCN2020 this autumn

RCN Congress 2020 was due to take place in Liverpool during June but a new agenda has been set for an interactive online series of debates and events, entitled #RCN2020.

- How does economic inequality contribute to the global public health crisis?, 9 September.
- Politics in nursing, 17 September.
- Student nurse internship in care homes, 22 September.
- What are the future opportunities and challenges for the nursing profession?, 28 September.
- What use are human rights in end of life care?, 5 October.

Alternatively, visit the RCN 2020 pages for full information about the wide ranging programme of activities.

RCN events

Research impact

The NIHR is seeking applications for a deputy chair of the Health Technology Assessment (HTA) programme (apply by 4 September), and deputy director of the Health Services and Delivery Research (HSDR) programme (apply by 7 September).

Make a difference

Informed decision making

The National Collaborating Centre for Methods and Tools (NCCMT) (Canada) provides online learning modules for public health professionals. These include quantitative research design, implementation, evaluation, and updated modules on critical appraisal.

Find out more

Research in veterans

The RCN is sponsoring an international armed forces community research webinar series. The first session takes place on 17 September, and features two presentations: Major NHS interventions to improve care to the armed forces; and the RCN Defence Nursing Forum.

Register

Research impact

Health and Care Research Wales is looking for expert members to become part of research ethics committees (REC) in Wales. As a part of the committee you will review health research applications to ensure the safety and wellbeing of research participants and the public.

Express an interest

Sign up for this newsletter

[Submit a newsletter
item](#)

[Research Society
Facebook](#)

[Research Society
Twitter](#)
